

2017 FORT WORTH'S MOST ENDANGERED PLACES

NOMINATION FORM

HFW's List of Most Endangered Places is a marketing and educational tool that spotlights historic resources threatened by a variety of circumstances including deterioration, neglect, vandalism, encroaching development, and/or lack of financial resources. A wide range of sites will be considered for the 2017 list including commercial, residential, religious, public buildings, neighborhoods, bridges, monuments and landscapes. Owners of properties recognized as Most Endangered benefit from increased public awareness and assistance from Historic Fort Worth, Inc. As a part of National Preservation Month, the announcement is made at a media event on Wednesday, May 3, at noon, at Thistle Hill, 1509 Pennsylvania Avenue. Buildings and places 50 years or older designated as Historic & Cultural Landmarks of the City of Fort Worth enjoy the highest protection against demolition.
